MEDICINAL.

"I thank Dr. Pierce for the kind advice he gave when I wrote to him."

"I am thankful to the friend who first recommended your medicine," writes Mrs. Annie M. Brook, of Smithfield, Fayette Co., Pa. "We have a twelve pound baby, three weeks old. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' before baby came, and the time was only one hour and a half. I have had five children, and before this always had a severe time, lasting two or three days, and never was able to do any work for about two months afterward. Now I am doing all the work for four children. My friends say I look better now than ever before. We told one of my sisters to take 'Favorite Prescription,' which she did, and when her child was born the time of suffering was very short. She has better health now than since her marriage, some years ago. We cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicine enough. I thank Dr. Pierce for the kind advice he gave when I wrote to him. Whenever I see other women suffering I tell them about your wonderful medicine."

The benefits resulting from a consultation by letter with Dr. Pierce are testified to by thousands of grateful women who have been made new women by his medical advice and fatherly counsel given absolutely without cost or fee.

Sick and ailing women, especially those suffering from chronic diseases, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for the cure of womanly ailments. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for maternity, giving the mother strength to give her child, and making the baby's advent practically painless.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BOY MURDERERS.

Angered beyond his powers of control, Walter E. Bassett, 11 years old, of Taunton, Mass., yesterday shot and instantly killed Peter Clark, an 11-year-old schoolmate. The tragedy was the outcome of a quarrel between the two little fellows. It appears that the Clark boy, with two companions, called Saturday afternoon at a cobbler's shop situated in a barn in the rear of the Bassett house for the purpose of leaving a pair of shoes, and that the Bassett boy ordered them to leave the yard. While the two boys were having any trouble before, they soon became involved in an altercation, which ended this time in Clark's departure. He returned for the shoes an hour or two later, still with his two friends, and this time Bassett, who apparently was on the watch, became so angry that he told them that if they did not get out he would shoot them. Becoming still further enraged at their lingering in the yard, he seized an old cavalry saber which was in the woodshed and tried to draw it from the scabbard, but the blade was too firmly rusted in its sheath. He then went into the house and reappeared with his father's shotgun, which was loaded. He returned to the house and soon reappeared with three cartridges in his hand. Without pausing an instant he thrust two of them into the two barrels of the gun, and pointing the weapon at the Clark boy, who stood 10 feet away, fired. Young Clark dropped to the ground, instantly killed. The top of his head was blown completely off and brains were splattered over the side of the house near which he had been standing. Seeing the result of his shot, Bassett hid himself, but was later found by the police.

When taken into custody the boy admitted shooting his schoolmate, but further than that made no statement. On account of his youth District Attorney Switz permitted his release on $10,000 bail, but not before Mr. Clark, the father of the dead boy, had called at the police station and expressed the hope that the slayer of his son be set at liberty. He said that he felt certain the sad affair had not been the growth of any criminal tendency.

Enraged over a name applied to him, Earl Flory, a 13-year-old boy, shot and instantly killed James Murphy, aged 12 years, and wounded John Johnson, aged 11 years, in Monongahela, Pa., yesterday. Flory is in jail and Johnson was taken to a hospital. The three boys for sometime have been boon companions, and yesterday were out hunting. The only gun in the party was owned by Flory, who allowed the others to share in the shooting from time to time. A dispute arose as to whose turn it was to use the gun, and Flory settled the question by asking it himself, whereupon Murphy said: "Your old gun is no good. It's like you, you dirty pup." The words were scarcely out of Murphy's mouth when Flory fired at him point-blank. The charge took effect in Murphy's abdomen, almost disemboweling him. Johnson was severely wounded about the lower part of the body by part of the charge which went by Murphy. Flory fled, leaving the wounded Johnson to hobble to the nearest habitation for aid. When arrested last night Flory said to the officers: "Yes, he called me names and I shot him." Later, he said Johnson told him the gun was empty and he only wanted to scare Murphy.

OPERATION ON KING WILLIAM.
Emperor William on Saturday underwent an operation for the removal of a polypus from the larynx. The operation was performed by Prof. Moritz Schmidt, and was entirely successful. The only inconvenience suffered by the Emperor is that he has been enjoined not to speak until the wound caused by the operation has been healed. The bulletins announcing the result of the operation caused much astonishment, even among court officials, who had no suspicion that he was suffering from any affection of the throat.

The Emperor himself appears not to have known of the growth in his larynx until a few days ago and to have suffered no discomfort from it.

The North German Gazette publishes the report of Prof. Johannes Orth, the famous cancer specialist, who succeeded the late Professor Virchow in the chair of pathological anatomy in the University of Berlin.

Professor Orth made a microscopic examination, which showed that the polypus consisted of a very soft connective tissue containing very few cells. This tissue was covered all over with a scaly epithelium, sharply defined from the tissue. A portion of the connective tissue cells contained fine brown pigmented granules, which evidently were the result of former slight hemorrhages. The polypus also contained a large number of thin-walled corpuscles.

"It is, therefore," says Professor Orth, "only a question of a benign connective tissue polypus."

The growth in the larynx at once suggested that the Emperor might be suffering from something worse than a simple polypus, but Professors von Lenthold, Liebig, Schmidt and Orth supplemented the bulletins in replying to inquiries by the most positive personal declarations that the affection was merely a "good-natured polypus," which is not likely to return or to be followed by any evil effects.

The surgeons expect that the Emperor will be out of doors in a week. He has arranged a hunting trip for Friday, November 27.

Frederick III., the father of the present Emperor of Germany, died June 1888, after a reign of not quite three years from a malignant affection of which even before his accession tracheotomy was necessary, as a difference of opinion between the noted English and German physicians who attended the Emperor as to whether the disease was cancer, and efforts were made to conceal the real nature of the malady.

Empress Frederick, mother of the present Emperor, died August 5, 1901, and while it was announced that dropsy was the immediate cause of her death, she had long been a sufferer from cancer.

"One of my children was taken with cramp colic and suffered severely," says S. B. Elize, of Monett, Mo.
